- E. SESSION SUMMARY:

There are mountains and water at the site. A tall/raised structure is in the center and forefront of the picture. A natural substance is shooting upward and sprouting outward from this structure. Something long and narrow in shape is emanating rapidly from a chamber or hole making the image free flowing from the earth. The substance which is contained therein springs forth in an upward and outward motion recycling downward to the areas around it. The target reacts like a fountain and stone figurines can be found at this site.
